

Achieve revalidation with RCGP accredited online learning modules from DynaMed®

DynaMed is now accredited by the Royal College of General Practitioners as a provider of online learning modules. Online learning modules from DynaMed cover a broad range of primary and secondary medical specialties and meet the specific and rigorous requirements for RCGP Accreditation.

Complete the checklist provided through the 'Get CME' link to record your online learning of a topic, then file the form away in your revalidation portfolio.

CME Form: Alpha-1 antitrypsin (AAT) deficiency

What You Needed To Find
Learning objective: to answer a clinical question regarding the topic Alpha-1 antitrypsin (AAT) deficiency
 Enter comments if needed to clarify:

What You Found
DynaMed content evaluated: DynaMed content for Alpha-1 antitrypsin (AAT) deficiency was found in the following sections:

* Select topic sections reviewed:

- All Sections
- General Information (including ICD-9/-10 Codes)
- Causes and Risk Factors
- Complications and Associated Conditions
- History
- Physical
- Diagnosis
- Prognosis
- Treatment
- Prevention and Screening
- References including Reviews and Guidelines
- Patient Information

What You Learned
Success in meeting learning objective:

* Check one or more of the following:

- I fulfilled my educational need and learned something that will change how I manage patients.
- I fulfilled my educational need and reinforced information that supports how I currently manage patients.
- I partially fulfilled my educational need and provide constructive feedback for improving the educational resource.
- I did not find information to meet my original educational need but I learned something that will change how I manage patients.

Identifying Information

* Your First Name:

* Your Last Name:

* Your E-mail: